

Rachel Joy Scott

She set a goal to reach out to three groups that were often neglected:

Those who were handicapped,

those who were new at school,

and those who were picked on and put down by others.